Captain William Brown (May 5th)

Captain William “Bud” Irving Brown, USNR (retired), 90, of Pensacola, FL, has passed away. William was born on November 22, 1931, in Baden, PA, to William Irving and Janet Dalrymple Brown.

He attended local schools, graduating from Gloucester High School in 1950. After graduation, he began his naval career as an enlisted man. Following a tour at sea aboard the USS Fulton (AS-11), he applied for aviation duty, and after successfully completing flight training, he was commissioned as an Ensign and designated a Naval Aviator in June 1953.

In 1956, as Operations Officer for Detachment 34 of All Weather Attach Squadron 33, he saw extensive carrier duty in the Atlantic Ocean and became the Detachment’s first single-engine Centurion on the USS Saratoga (CVA-60) with 100 carrier landings.

As a Navy Flight Instructor stationed at Whiting Field, Pensacola, he met Patricia Collins, a nursing student in Pensacola. They married in 1959, moved to numerous Naval duty stations, and grew their family – welcoming four children.

Captain Brown retired in 1975, as Commander of the Naval Reserve Center in Pittsburgh, PA, after a 25-year career. Included among his decorations are the following awards: The National Defense Service Medal with star, the European Occupation Medal, the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal and the Naval Reserve Medal with Hour Glass Device.

After retiring from the Navy, the Brown family moved to Pensacola, where Bud continued to serve his community – first as a delivery person for the Pensacola News Journal newspaper then as a mail person, delivering for the U.S. Post Office. He also took on the roles of assistant softball coach at Pensacola Catholic High School, umpire at Baars Field and Lector and Eucharistic Minister for Holy Spirit Catholic Church, and was an active member of the local Kiwanis Club.

Bud also obtained his Bachelor of Arts in Accounting from the University of West Florida in March of 1980. In addition to his community service, Bud was a man of many hobbies, including bird watching and metal detecting. To the great regret of his wife, he took a television repair class that resulted in him bringing home numerous discarded and broken television sets so he could repair them.

William was preceded in death by his parents, William Irving and Janet Dalrymple Brown; his wife of 62 years, Patricia Catherine Collins Brown; and his sister, Janet Collins. He is survived by his four children: Kevin Brown, Beth Mackin (John), Janet Goodall-Brown (Laura) and Martin Brown (Kathy); 13 grandchildren: Kyle Brown (Maureen), Konnor Brown (Samantha), Katey (Rett), Mary, Julie and Amy Mackin, Catherine Timo, Colleen

Kevin D. Hannum Sr. (May 12th)

He's the goofy, fun loving man of passion, and the key to Kevin D. Hannum Sr.'s happiness was laughter. He was the one singing in the shower, dancing in the living room to his favorite tunes and everyone knew "that smirk."

Kevin was integrity, courage and dependability, and one of the few, one of the proud... Semper Fi. Over the past few years, while challenged by indisposition, Kevin was tenacious, full of hope and faithful. You know what Ol' Jack Burton says at a time like this?... Just look that big ol' storm right square in the eye and say... "Give me your best shot, pal. I can take it." Kevin did just that. But, on Wednesday April 27, 2022 we learned how terrible it was to love someone death can touch. Because Kevin would not stop for death, he kindly stopped for Kevin, after just 47 years, at Virtua Lourdes Hospital in Camden. The carriage just held Kevin and immortality.

Born in Stratford, he was a 1993 graduate of Triton Regional High School and a longtime resident of Bellmawr. He contributed to the manpower of our great nation, upholding the American ideals of freedom as a lance corporal in the U.S. Marine Corps. He served his community as a police officer with the Bellmawr and National Park police departments, and was a volunteer firefighter with the Bellmawr Fire Department, Station 32.

Kevin laughed at Seinfeld episodes and on Sundays cheered on the "Iggles." Most of all, he adored his children, drowning worms fishing and spending time camping under the stars. The road had finally taken Kevin home.

Kevin is the devoted and caring husband of Robin (nee Kanauss) and father of Kevin D. Hannum Jr. and Gabrielle Hannum. He leaves to cherish his memory his parents, Robert and Donna (nee Tyers) Bangs. He is also survived by his brothers, Chuck Hannum, Joshua Hannum and Sam Bangs; his sister-in-laws, Jill and Melissa; his uncle Ken Tyers; nieces and nephews Nathan, Sara, Lucas, Ashley and Noah; and his faithful furry friend Cooper.

Relatives, friends, police officers and firefighters gathered with the Hannum family and shared tall-tale fishing stories and paying tribute to a loving husband, son, father and friend at the Etherington & Creran Funeral Homes, Gloucester City, followed by a Celebration of Kevin's life at the Immanuel Orthodox Presbyterian Church, Bellmawr. The time-honored tradition of reuniting those we love with nature will be held privately.

As an expression of sympathy contributions can be made to Kevin's children's education fund % Sam Bangs at any TD Bank branch. www.tdank.com.
